Examinations
We'll have two exams and a final exam. The exams will be "closed book/ closed note." Exams will be essay type, calling on you to write one or more paragraphs per question. A single question may have several parts, such as asking for brief definitions of several related words. The relative weight of each question will be given. Essay-type questions are scored with 0 - 4 points, based on my rating of its correctness, completeness, and clarity. I will divide all score totals by the highest exam score. This division yields a percentage which will represent the point value recorded for the exam; each exam is thus worth a possible 100 points. Unless you give me written evidence of serious illness, death, etc., late exams are subject to -15% per day penalty.

The final exam will be given Saturday, April 18 from 7 to 10 a.m. It will consist of the same type of questions as the exams and will be worth a possible 100 points. University policy does not permit early finals and requires incompletes to be given for make-up finals.

Class Participation

Complete the assigned reading before each class to be ready to teach the class on a topic or topics. I will select students to present and discuss part of each days readings.

I expect attendance and class participation. No unexcused absences are allowed; more than one such absence during the semester will cause grade lowering of one step per two absences. If you can't attend this class you should not be enrolled for it. Borrowing notes is a nuisance to other students and is a poor substitute for your own encoding and discussion of class material. Hire a babysitter for your children; don't bring them to class. Eating and drinking in class is okay except for noisy or odiferous things such as Corn Nuts or Fritos. Sleeping in class or privately conversing with a friend is not permitted.

Semester Grading

Semester grades will be based about 90% on the exams and 10% on class participation (which includes class preparation and discussion, pop-quizzes on assigned reading, and contributory attendance). No exam scores will be dropped. All in all, 300 points are possible (2 exams @ 100 each, the final @100 points). The grading scale used is: 95-100% A, 90-94% A-, 87-89% B+, 83-86% B, 80-82% B-, 77-79% C+, 73-76% C, 70-72% C-, 67-69% D+, 63-66% D, 60-62% D-, 59% & below E. No extra credit is possible.
