Mary Anne Prater

Mary Anne Prater, professor and dean of the David O. McKay School of Education at Brigham Young University, earned a PhD in special education from Utah State University in 1987. Prior to joining the BYU faculty in 2001, she was department chair and associate dean at the University of Hawaii at Manoa and a faculty member at Southern Illinois University, Carbondale.

Dean Prater has held multiple leadership positions in the Council for Exceptional Children, the premier organization for special education professionals nationwide. Her research interests include the portrayal of disabilities in children's literature, effective instruction for students with high-incidence disabilities, and special education teacher preparation. She is the author or coauthor of eight books and over 100 journal articles. She has also presented over 100 papers in national and international professional meetings.

Outside of work, she enjoys reading, traveling, counted cross-stitch, and spending time with her family.
