You will complete a total of two, one hour classroom observations. Conduct this observation at your current practicum placement. The observations are conducted in two parts. See instructions below.

- You will observe 5 different students for five minutes each.
- Do not write the name of the students or the teachers.
- Indicate what gender the students were by circling the appropriate gender (M/F).
- The rest of the time, you are to observe the classroom routines, procedures, expectations, and strategies as described in Part 2.

Part 1 Instructions – Direct Observation

You will code three behaviors by tallying the frequency of their occurrence. The behaviors that you count as frequencies are:

- Praise
  - Verbal statements by the teacher that indicate approval for the student's behavior or academic response
- Correction
  - Verbal statements by the teacher that indicate disapproval for the student's behavior or academic response
- Opportunity to respond
  - A question or statement by the teacher that seeks a response from the student

For the On-Task and Disruptive columns, you will give each student an overall rating of 1-10 (or an estimated percentage; e.g., 80%) for the 5 minute interval. "On-Task" and "Disruptive" are defined as follows:

- On-Task
  - Actively or passively participating in the classroom activity
- Disruptive
  - Student behavior that interrupts classroom activity

You will complete a total of two, one hour classroom observations. Conduct this observation at your current practicum placement. The observations are conducted in two parts. See instructions below.

- You will observe 5 different students for five minutes each.
- Do not write the name of the students or the teachers.
- Indicate what gender the students were by circling the appropriate gender (M/F).
- The rest of the time, you are to observe the classroom routines, procedures, expectations, and strategies as described in Part 2.

Part 1 Instructions – Direct Observation

You will code three behaviors by tallying the frequency of their occurrence. The behaviors that you count as frequencies are:

- Praise
  - Verbal statements by the teacher that indicate approval for the student's behavior or academic response
- Correction
  - Verbal statements by the teacher that indicate disapproval for the student's behavior or academic response
- Opportunity to respond
  - A question or statement by the teacher that seeks a response from the student

For the On-Task and Disruptive columns, you will give each student an overall rating of 1-10 (or an estimated percentage; e.g., 80%) for the 5 minute interval. "On-Task" and "Disruptive" are defined as follows:

- On-Task
  - Actively or passively participating in the classroom activity
- Disruptive
  - Student behavior that interrupts classroom activity

Part 2 Instructions

Please take notes on each question in part two while you are observing.

Behavior Change Project

Due: Saturday, Nov 12 at 11:59 pm

Behavior Change Project Assignment Description CPSE 443

The purpose of this assignment is to provide you an opportunity to practice the skills associated with changing behavior, including collecting and graphing data and making decision based on the data you collect.

For this assignment choose a low-intensity (Tier1) behavior to change.

To complete this assignment, do each of the following:

1. Select a problem behavior you can directly observe in a situation that you can control. This could include a student's problem behavior at school, a roommate's problem behavior at home, or your own behavior.
2. Conduct a brief functional behavior assessment that includes an indirect assessment (i.e., interview with a relevant stakeholder) and a descriptive assessment (i.e., direct observation in the target environment). If you are changing your own you need to interview someone else rather than relying on introspection.
3. Design a BIP based on your brief-FBA that includes low-intensity (Tier I or II) antecedent (i.e., alter the environment or reteach expectations) and consequence manipulations (i.e., increase praise rate). Your choice of interventions should be supported by contextual factors (e.g., teacher skills and preferences), client values, and the best-available evidence.
  - Feel free to use this Template for your BIP BIP Template.docx Download \(plugins/Upload/fileDownload.php?fileId=294618e4-NevE-dtv6-K4VF-6Ze9646a69ef&pubhash=5liM6vvNFkWK\_Mbh1QDTm9ikA9aalvpkKpsi-RKgaXM4hFg-iTpHjtJP35Fkj55ij8fBk1ts2gUzwMZQNqcrVA==\)
4. Propose strategies for implementing the plan, ensuring staff and student safety, and monitoring outcomes (e.g., implementation fidelity and student performance).
5. Implement your plan with fidelity and gather progress monitoring data. Graph your results.
6. Analyze your results including what went well, what didn't go well, and what you plan to do moving forward.

Be sure to submit on Learning Suite your:

- Low-intensity BIP
- Graph(s)
- Analysis of the results

Instructions for Staff Training Presentation

Use this Google document for signing up for a partner and topic.

/edit?usp=sharing \(https://docs.google.com/document/d/1qUSS1vQhvZTxvRa3MxXzecK9cRl4gFuoJFb561ZkttY/edit?usp=sharing\)

1. Pick a partner from class with whom you will develop and co-present your training. If there is an odd number of students in the class then let's have one group of three.
2. Select one of the "Universal" (p. 70) or "Targeted" (p. 87) behavior management strategies from the Least Restrictive Behavior Interventions (LRBI) Manual.
3. Develop a 15 min presentation for your classmates (assume they are colleagues in your school who need to use this strategy with your student(s)) using Behavioral Skills Training (see Miltenberger Chapter 12, pp. 225-230). Behavioral Skills Training includes:
  - Instructions - Describe the target behavior (if appropriate, include a task analysis) and explain the rationale for the use of this strategy (i.e., why it is important).
  - Modeling - Demonstrate the strategy using examples and non-examples (if appropriate provide a fidelity checklist)
  - Rehearsal - Program opportunities to practice the strategy
  - Feedback - Provide specific feedback immediately after the rehearsal and present a method to monitor treatment integrity (including opportunities for self-evaluation)

Grading rubric

Each component of the presentation is worth 2 points. If you are presenting with more than one person, each person will receive an independent score on the assignment. Therefore, each person must participate in each component of the presentation to receive full points.

Component	0	1	2
Instructions	Missing or incorrect.	Partially developed. Information about the utility of the practice is shared, but it lacks supporting evidence. The task analysis/procedures are not clear.	Fully developed. A strong case is made for using the procedure based on data, case studies, and/or logic. The benefits of the procedure for school stakeholders are presented, ethical issues considered, and the limits of the use of the procedure defined. The task analysis is specific.
Modeling	Missing or incorrect.	Partially developed. The task analysis is incomplete or overly complicated. The key features of the procedure are inaccurately portrayed in models or the modeling lacks detail.	The model(s) is consistent with the task analysis. Multiple Examples and non-examples are provided across multiple contexts/situations.
Practice	Missing or incorrect.	Partially developed. Unclear instructions are provided or the model did not specify specific skills. Feedback is not specific.	Fully developed. Your peers are actively involved in the presentation and have multiple opportunities to practice or discuss the skill/procedure with appropriate feedback.

Evaluation	Missing or incorrect.	Partially developed. Data collection procedures are mentioned but not clearly described or practiced.	Fully developed. Your peers practice collecting data on the use of the practice and participate in self-evaluation.
Clarity	The presentation was poorly delivered, ill-developed, and/or confusing.	Partially developed. The presenter spoke clearly and maintained a good pace for most of the presentation.	Fully developed. The presenter spoke clearly and maintained a good pace for most of the presentation.

A message to students from President Worthen

We need your input. Student evaluations of BYU faculty and courses are extremely important.

- Faculty are expected to review them to improve their courses and teaching methods.
- Department chairs are expected to review them annually with faculty to assess teaching effectiveness.
- University committees consider them carefully as part of faculty reviews to determine who is retained and promoted.

Without your responsible input, we cannot effectively assess and improve teaching performance and student learning. Please be honest, fair, and constructive as you complete your evaluations. And please remember, comments related to gender, age, appearance, race, ethnicity or family status are never appropriate.

Your evaluations really do matter.

Thank you,

President Worthen

University Policies

Honor Code

In keeping with the principles of the BYU Honor Code, students are expected to be honest in all of their academic work. Academic honesty means, most fundamentally, that any work you present as your own must in fact be your own work and not that of another. Violations of this principle may result in a failing grade in the course and additional disciplinary action by the university. Students are also expected to adhere to the Dress and Grooming Standards. Adherence demonstrates respect for yourself and others and ensures an effective learning and working environment. It is the university's expectation, and every instructor's expectation in class, that each student will abide by all Honor Code standards. Please call the Honor Code Office at 422-2847 if you have questions about those standards.

Preventing Sexual Misconduct

Brigham Young University prohibits all forms of sexual harassment—including sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, and stalking on the basis of sex—by its personnel and students and in all its education programs or activities. University policy requires all faculty members to promptly report incidents of sexual harassment that come to their attention in any way and encourages reports by students who experience or become aware of sexual harassment. Incidents should be reported to the Title IX Coordinator at t9coordinator@byu.edu or (801) 422-8692 or 1085 WSC. Reports may also be submitted online at <https://titleix.byu.edu/report> (<https://titleix.byu.edu/report>) or 1-888-238-1062 (24-hours a day). BYU offers a number of resources and services for those affected by sexual harassment, including the university's confidential Sexual Assault Survivor Advocate. Additional information about sexual harassment, the university's Sexual Harassment Policy, reporting requirements, and resources can be found in the University Catalog, by visiting <http://titleix.byu.edu> (<http://titleix.byu.edu>), or by contacting the university's Title IX Coordinator.

Student Disability

Brigham Young University is committed to providing a working and learning atmosphere that reasonably accommodates qualified persons with disabilities. A disability is a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities. Whether an impairment is substantially limiting depends on its nature and severity, its duration or expected duration, and its permanent or expected permanent or long-term impact. Examples include vision or hearing impairments, physical disabilities, chronic illnesses, emotional disorders (e.g., depression, anxiety), learning disorders, and attention disorders (e.g., ADHD). If you have a disability which impairs your ability to complete this course successfully, please contact the University Accessibility Center (UAC), 2170 WSC or 801-422-2767 to request a reasonable accommodation. The UAC can also assess students for learning, attention, and emotional concerns. If you feel you have been unlawfully discriminated against on the basis of disability, please contact the Equal Opportunity Office at 801-422-5895, eo\_manager@byu.edu, or visit <https://hrs.byu.edu/equal-opportunity> (<https://hrs.byu.edu/equal-opportunity>) for help.

Academic Honesty

The first injunction of the Honor Code is the call to "be honest." Students come to the university not only to improve their minds, gain knowledge, and develop skills that will assist them in their life's work, but also to build character. "President David O. McKay taught that character is the highest aim of education" (The Aims of a BYU Education, p.6). It is the purpose of the BYU Academic Honesty Policy to assist in fulfilling that aim. BYU students should seek to be totally honest in their dealings with others. They should complete their own work and be evaluated based upon that work. They should avoid academic dishonesty and misconduct in all its forms, including but not limited to plagiarism, fabrication or falsification, cheating, and other academic misconduct.

Covid 19 Statement

Covid 19 Statement

While COVID 19 conditions persist and until further notice, students and faculty are required to wear face coverings at all times during class; faculty are not at liberty to waive this expectation.

Students who feel sick, including exhibiting symptoms commonly associated with COVID 19 (fever; cough; shortness of breath/difficulty breathing; chills; muscle pain; sore throat; new loss of taste or smell; etc.) should not attend class and should work with their instructor to develop a study plan for the duration of the illness.

Deliberation Guidelines

To facilitate productive and open discussions about sensitive topics about which there are differing opinions, members of the BYU community should: (1) Remember that we are each responsible for enabling a productive, respectful dialogue. (2) To enable time for everyone to speak, strive to be concise with your thoughts. (3) Respect all speakers by listening actively. (4) Treat others with the respect that you would like them to treat you with, regardless of your differences. (5) Do not interrupt others. (6) Always try to understand what is being said before you respond. (7) Ask for clarification instead of making assumptions. (8) When countering an idea, or making one initially, demonstrate that you are listening to what is being said by others. Try to validate other positions as you assert your own, which aids in dialogue, versus attack. (9) Under no circumstances should an argument continue out of the classroom when someone does not want it to. Extending these conversations beyond class can be productive, but we must agree to do so respectfully, ethically, and with attention to individuals' requests for confidentiality and discretion. (10) Remember that exposing yourself to different perspectives helps you to evaluate your own beliefs more clearly and learn new information. (11) Remember that just because you do not agree with a person's statements, it does not mean that you cannot get along with that person. (12) Speak with your professor privately if you feel that the classroom environment has become hostile, biased, or intimidating. Adapted from the Deliberation Guidelines published by The Center for Democratic Deliberation. (<http://cdd.la.psu.edu/education/The%20CDD%20Deliberation%20Guidelines.pdf/view?searchterm=deliberation%20guidelines>)

Diversity and Inclusion in the Classroom

"Because we feel the depth of God's love for His children, we care deeply about every child of God, regardless of age, personal circumstances, gender, sexual orientation, or other unique challenges" (President Russell M. Nelson, "The Love and Laws of God," September 2019). As a university community we strive to foster an educational environment that promotes the personal dignity of every student and accept individual responsibility to eliminate racism, sexism, and nationalism. Our course participation reflects our understanding that every individual is a child of Heavenly Parents. We create learning environments in which every individual is motivated to express their opinions and perspectives and ask questions to augment discussions and learning. We listen to, learn from, and strive to consider thoughtfully the opinions of others. We use language that is polite, considerate, and courteous—even when we strongly disagree.

Inappropriate Use of Course Materials

All course materials (e.g., outlines, handouts, syllabi, exams, quizzes, PowerPoint presentations, lectures, audio and video recordings, etc.) are proprietary. Students are prohibited from posting or selling any such course materials without the express written permission of the professor teaching this course. To do so is a violation of the Brigham Young University Honor Code. It is also unethical to post your own work (study sheets, papers) from the course on file sharing websites as you are encouraging others to engage in plagiarism. These policies continue indefinitely (not limited to the duration of the semester or term you take this course).

Mental Health

Mental health concerns and stressful life events can affect students' academic performance and quality of life. BYU Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS, 1500 WSC, 801-422-3035, caps.byu.edu) provides individual, couples, and group counseling, as well as stress management services. These services are confidential and are provided by the university at no cost for full-time students. For general information please visit <https://caps.byu.edu> (<https://caps.byu.edu>); for more immediate concerns please visit <http://help.byu.edu> (<http://help.byu.edu>).

Plagiarism

Intentional plagiarism is a form of intellectual theft that violates widely recognized principles of academic integrity as well as the Honor Code. Such plagiarism may subject the student to appropriate disciplinary action administered through the university Honor Code Office, in addition to academic sanctions that may be applied by an instructor. Inadvertent plagiarism, which may not be a violation of the Honor Code, is nevertheless a form of intellectual carelessness that is unacceptable in the academic community. Plagiarism of any kind is completely contrary to the established practices of higher education where all members of the university are expected to acknowledge the original intellectual work of others that is included in their own work. In some cases, plagiarism may also involve violations of copyright law. Intentional Plagiarism-Intentional plagiarism is the deliberate act of representing the words, ideas, or data of another as one's own without providing proper attribution to the author through quotation, reference, or footnote. Inadvertent Plagiarism-Inadvertent plagiarism involves the inappropriate, but non-deliberate, use of another's words, ideas, or data without proper attribution. Inadvertent plagiarism usually results from an ignorant failure to follow established rules for documenting sources or from simply not being sufficiently careful in research and writing. Although not a violation of the Honor Code, inadvertent plagiarism is a form of academic misconduct for which an instructor can impose appropriate academic sanctions. Students who are in doubt as to whether they are providing proper attribution have the responsibility to consult with their instructor and obtain guidance. Examples of plagiarism include: Direct Plagiarism-The verbatim copying of an original source without acknowledging the source. Paraphrased Plagiarism-The paraphrasing, without acknowledgement, of ideas from another that the reader might mistake for the author's own. Plagiarism Mosaic-The borrowing of words, ideas, or data from an original source and blending this original material with one's own without acknowledging the source. Insufficient Acknowledgement-The partial or incomplete attribution of words, ideas, or data from an original source. Plagiarism may occur with respect to unpublished as well as published material. Copying another student's work and submitting it as one's own individual work without proper attribution is a serious form of plagiarism.

Respectful Environment

"Sadly, from time to time, we do hear reports of those who are at best insensitive and at worst insulting in their comments to and about others... We hear derogatory and sometimes even defamatory comments about those with different political, athletic, or ethnic views or experiences. Such behavior is completely out of place at BYU, and I enlist the aid of all to monitor carefully and, if necessary, correct any such that might occur here, however inadvertent or unintentional. "I worry particularly about demeaning comments made about the career or major choices of women or men either directly or about members of the BYU community generally. We must remember that personal agency is a fundamental principle and that none of us has the right or option to criticize the lawful choices of another." President Cecil O. Samuelson, Annual University Conference, August 24, 2010

"Occasionally, we ... hear reports that our female faculty feel disrespected, especially by students, for choosing to work at BYU, even though each one has been approved by the BYU Board of Trustees. Brothers and sisters, these things ought not to be. Not here. Not at a university that shares a constitution with the School of the Prophets." Vice President John S. Tanner, Annual University Conference, August 24, 2010
